Dear Mr. Andriash,

Congratulations!

2001

Your Per'f-Alite Electric Imageable Vinyl has been selected by Digital Output's readers to receive a Readers' Choice Award as one of the Top 50 Products & Technologies in 2001.

This is no small feat. Digital Output runs hundreds of products and technologies over the course of the year – in our "New Products & Technologies" section, Product Roundups, various Show Previews – as well as on our website, www.digitaloutput.net. We monitor the interest in each and every product and technology by tracking reader service numbers and relevant website hits. In addition, our editors diligently note calls and e-mails from readers who have further questions about products and services. We record all this information, do some tallying long into the night, and, from these numbers, compose our "Readers' Choice: Top 50 Products & Technologies".

We are showcasing your product/technology in our August issue in a feature dedicated to the Top 50 Products & Technologies. This issue will be distributed at this year's Print01-Chicago, Digital Imaging-Santa Clara and SGIA-Anaheim in September. We also are enclosing our Top 50 Readers' Choice Award logos in color and black and white for your use on your promotional materials.

Again, congratulations, and thank you for your continuing interest in Digital Output and in our readers.
